Broad Street

By HARLEY M. LEETE, JR.

In the Bottle Shop window is displayed the grandfather of the modern seltzer bottle. It's a graceful little object, green glass encased in rattan, shaped like a drip coffeemaker. Rey Spickelmier says it was invented ni the 60's or 70's. The prospective soda water maker inserted the gadget upside down and presto—there he was with fizz-water—he hoped.

To Earl Covey, Grass Valley's member of the State Centennial Advisory Commission appointed by Governor Earl Warren, goes credit for securing the magnificent State of California float for the Fourth parade. Covey also engineered the showing in the parade made by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West—a total of seven splendid floats

Judge James S. Snell is known as an "expediter" in California judicial circles. Whenever there is a bad bottle-neck in Los Angeles or other metropolitan courts, the judge, whose legal knowledge quickly straightens out administrative tangles, is called. His ability is bringing prestige to Nevada County.

That meticulous, modern, metropolitan, merchandising mart, Novak & Colvin Department Store, at 127 Broad Street, has added a new wrinkle to its window display—a sun-colored plastic window shade that rolls down by a magic electric eye whenever direct sunlight strikes the quality goods displayed in their window.

The merry-go-round in Gat's Toy Store, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Burton, in Grass Valley has been improved, embellished, and reconstructed so as to be a suitable adornment for their brand new building on Neal Street. Next addition: music!

One of the nicest things about Broad Street, besides its brand new asphalt surface, is the brookside garden of Gene Barbieri's, between his tavern and Deer Creek. If all the odd plots of earth here were as beautifully cared-for, we'd have the prettiest town in the country.

Here's something we're practically sure you didn't know. There's a flock of gray karakul sheep up by Bridgeport on the Ridge. Bert Foreman's got several auto robes woven from the long wool of these sheep, on display in his shop, to prove it. A San Francisco firm weaves and merchandises them.

Nevada County already has a thriving fish hatchery. According to Lou Hartman, it's at Indian Mountain Guest Ranch. The ranch has several hundred thousand baby brook and rainbow trout and just sold 1,000 to Mayor Elmer Robinson, to stock the private fish pond at his "Remle" Ranch on the Colfax Highway.

Our city hall has a new look—new cream and brown paint for the whole front facade brings it back to its pristine, ultra-modern appearanc.

Councilman Harry F. Sofge reports that the next street surfacing project for Nevada City is Uren Street, formerly known as Washington Road, running parallel to Nevada Street.

Harris Drug Store is being brightened, under the watchful eye of owner Charles Elliott, with a paint scheme of turquoise and lemon yellow.

Jim Harding of the Sierra Nevada Radios and Appliances on Commercial Street, has completely rearranged his shop in an extremely pleasing manner—big thick carpet and everything.

That 40½-inch Mackinaw trout that Game Warden Hiscox and Biologist Fraser netted at Weaver Lake is enough to scare you half to death just to look at it. It's got a mouth as big as your head and fangs like big steel saw teeth, and just as hard. It's an ugly gray, with big spiny fins, and the over-all impression it gives is one of just plain mean-ness! It'll soon be on display at Footes Liquor Store, and we'll have a picture of it in next week's Nugget.

THIS BIG ONE DIDN'T GET AWAY 40 INCHES LONG--25 POUNDS

NEVADA CITY: J. C. Fraser, biologist for the Fish and Game Commission, yesterday morning caught a 25 pound Mackinaw trout in Weaver Lake in the high country east of Bowman Lake.

The trout was caught with a gillnet. It measured 40½ inches in length. Attached to his jaw was a Davis spinner and a leader. Down his throat appeared the tail of another trout, which Fraser estimated by the width, would be about 12 inches long.

Assisting Fraser was Joseph Verret. Game Warden Earl Hiscox states the trout is the largest ever caught in Nevada County. He said larger trout are caught in Lake Tahoe and Pyramid Lake, with copper wire leaders, but this big fellow was so heavy that he would break almost any tackle likely to be used in Lake Weaver.

The fish was taken to Loomis Wednesday to be mounted, and when returned will hang on the wall of Foote's Liquor Store on Broad Street.

The minor in the case of Jelinek was Mrs. Lorene Stagno who was convicted of buying a drink. Mrs. Stagno was but 18 at the time. ## FORESTERS GET SET FOR FIRE COMBAT

NEVADA CITY: Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Tahoe National Forest stated yesterday the forest service is training at White Cloud an especially expert crew to fight fires. He said it has been the lesson of experience that a few well trained men can fight fire more expeditiously and economically than many half trained men.

The crew is being trained at White Cloud, 12 miles east of this city on Highway 20. The unit consists of 15 men and they are equipped with their camp kitchen, and cook. It moves in on a fire with enough rations to keep fighting for several days.

The crew occupies the old CCC barracks at White Cloud and when not engaged in fighting fire will make camp furniture, fire places, build telephone lines or work on other worthwhile projects.

NEW METHOD

A smouldering fire in a sawdust pile on Alder Creek, four miles from Truckee is the scene of an experiment in a new method of extinguishing fires by the Tahoe National Forest service.

The method involves treating the water with a detergent, reducing surface tension to almost nothing. Reports indicate that one gallon of treated water is as effective as fifty gallons of untreated water. The Tahoe National Forest office reported enough of this material has been shipped to Alder Creek to treat 1,000 gallons of water.

HENDRICKS, FORMER MURCHIE SUPER, VISITING IN G V.

GRAS VALLEY: Mr .and Mrs. Robert J. Hendricks and their children, Robert Shaw Hendricks and Margaret Ann Hendricks, have arrived for a three months vacation in Grass Valley. The family completed the long trip from the Island of Cyprus where Mr. Hendricks was in charge of one of the largest and oldest copper mines in the world.

Enroute to California the family visited friends in Italy and New York. The family is the guest of Mrs. Hendricks parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Shaw.

The property which Mr. Hendricks supervises was worked in pre-biblical times, was lost for several centuries and, in recent times, was re-discovered and in a few years became a big producer of the red metal.

The Island of Cyprus has played a role in recent months in the fortunes of Palestine and the Near East. The British used the island to imprison Jews intercepted on their way to Palestine.

Mr. Hendricks was formerly superintendent of the Murchie and Zeebright gold mines in this county.

A REVIEW OF DAVIS' GOLD RUSH BOOK

By F. M. R.

NEVADA CITY: In his foreword, H. P. Davis informs the reader "In this little book no attempt is made to recount the history of Nevada City" and adds, "The object of the writer and publisher is to provide and accurate and readable story of the founding and early history of this town which will acquaint the reader with the salient facts and more significant events of the formative years of this community."

A booklet of seventy pages, it records many fascinating "firsts" in Nevada City—the first gold discovery, buildings, theatre, great fire, water rights, and a description of the various methods of mining employed in this region.

As an aid to estblishing authentically locations, orgnizations, population and the like, as a reference guide for many persons interested in Nevada City's early day history, and for concise description of buildings and sites that no longer exist and of which there remains no evidence, the booklet is invaluable and shall certainly have a permanent place on California Historical shelves.

"Gold Rush Days in Nevada City" makes available under one cover for the first time in many years, an authentic compilation of valuable information of established authority. With its fund of information and containing photographic illustrations and a splendidly constructed map, the booklet is a "must have" for the California history enthusiast. It may be had from local book stores for $1.00. It is published by Berliner & McGinnis.

GOLD DIGGER'S TRAIL

Charles Scott Haley

It was the close of my junior year in college at the University of California, in Berkeley. That day there were no more classes, nor any day that term. Because of the great upheaval, we were spared final exams. The houses were all needed for refugees from across the bay, and college closed with a bang.

The prospect of a five month vacation was before me, and it did not take long to decide what to do. Tonopah and Goldfield had filled our ears with tales of sudden riches and our hearts and minds with dreams of wealth to be had for the taking. Naturally, there was but one path for and embryonic mining engineer to take. I borrowed the money to buy a one way ticket, and set forth about the first of may.

Thus, one sunny evening as the slow train puffed up the last steep grade into Tonopah, I took stock of my remaining finances. There was just five dollars left in my thin wallet as I stepped off the train. I walked up the bustling, dusty street from the depot until I came to the principal hotel. This, oddly enough, was named the Mizpah, which, it is my understanding, is translated, "God be with you while we are apart, one from another." Evidently this hotel required more company than its name indicated. Beds were not to be had in private, but I could have an eight hour shift in one for three dollars.

Ham and eggs were a dollar and a half a throw—and I was ready for a supply. I finally found a shed which rented beds for a dollar a night and, secure in the knowledge that I would sleep for one night at least and with my capital diminished to two dollars, I sauntered around the streets and in the various saloons and gambling halls with my eyes wide open. I had never seen the like in my twenty-one years of existence.

Milling crowds of prospectors thronged the sidewalks. Gamblers, miners and brokers jostled one another and made way with western courtesy for dance hall girls hurrying to their jobs. At the gambling tables, sharp-eyed silent lookouts kept intent eyes on the mingled throngs which crowded and pushed around, eager to tempt fortune or to brace themselves with another drink. The low, soft voices of the croupiers and dealers penetrated through the noise of the milling throngs as the clink of silver dollars marked the pay-off or the raking in of money from the tables.

As I was coming out of one of these places, I was greeted by a familiar voice. Lonesome and homesick as I was, it certainly sounded good. A girl whom I had known in high school days was walking down the street, taking the air with her husband.

This man was already known as one of the outstanding mining engineers of the West, and was at

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L., SR.

Well, they're off. All except Henry Wallace and his ridiculous guitar playing side-kick. The Dixiecrats the Northern Democrats, the Republicans, the Socialists, the Prohibitionists and the Whatnots. By which we mean the Henry Wallace party, which is just about to launch Henry. It's a fair race, and while we are not too sure of the winner, we still believe the Republicans will win.

We surmise that President Truman will garner a larger vote than would appear at the moment. We like the way the Democratic convention reinforced in its platform the civil rights plank, which is Truman's, at least by adoption. It's about time Congress fought this battle to the finish, whether it results in a long drawn out filibuster or not. We understand it will find a top place on the Republican schedule, when Congress convenes July 26th. If the Senate fails to cover its bill for civil rights with a cloture rule, that's too bad, but let us have the fight and get it over with. This is one sure way to kill off the international propaganda mill that keeps repeating we are for equal rights for all peoples, creeds and races, in talk, but we do not practice our preaching.

We think Henry Wallace will not get the vote anticipated when he first threw his hat in the ring. Too many people in this country are fearful of giving his Communist following a boost. Nobody likes a Communist, especially since the Russians have tried to starve two million people in Germany, by cutting off their food imported by the western democratic allies.

Just why we should be in this silly position of having to import food through a Russian zone to our own part of Berlin, is something hard to understand, and why we put up with it for a minute, is another thing that baffles. One of these days one of the Russian planes cavorting over our airfields in Berlin. will collide with a British or American plane loaded with food, and then the fat will be in the fire.

The Russians don't seem to have learned yet that Americans don't like to see their boys killed by alien warriors either at Diamond Head or over Berlin. Since we began to carry vittles to the Germans in Berlin, we must continue to do so somehow or lose face. The Russians like the Germans so much less than we do that they are willing to give our part of Berlin a taste of famine, just to force us out. We could not, of course, fail the Germans once we undertook to supply most of their food.

So here we sit on tenter hooks waiting for the Russians to open the gates, which apparently our diplomats carelessly placed in their hands. We don't know what General Clay will say when he arrives in Washington but we hope he has a plan that will set the Russians back on their heels. It is no joke having 10,000 American troops in a Russian bear trap. Personally we would rather see all of Moscow leveled and rotting from atomic bombs than that one of our boys should die of a Russian bullet.

We do not know just why Harry Truman recalled Congress. It may have been politics as the Republicans charge. At any rate we believe it was a mighty good move for the president to make. We are for it 100 per cent. Let the Republicans put some of their fine platform planks into law, and at the same time stand by, ready for instant action abroad, in case action is necessary.

As for Henry Wallace and the horse and buggy South, which talks about state rights and denies its Negroes human rights, they are, strictly speaking, political sideshows, which will probably aid in laying the Democratic party on the shelf until another Roosevelt is born. And for that matter, the new heir to Roosevelt can just as well be a Republican as a Democrat.

The directors of the chamber again went on record as favoring an outside telephone at the local airport which might be used by fliers forced to land during emergencies. The same request was made a year ago.

The board also directed the secretary to write the Truckee Sanitary Board requesting new trash disposal cans on Main Street.

Director H. G. Loehr called attention to the fact that sum of money is being made available on a matching basis for schools planning building. The chamber is advising the school boards of this money and urging them to make a further study and take advantage of the program.

that time superintendent of one of the best mines in Tonopah. His name was John Chandler, and the heart of what I know about underground examination I was later to learn from him, although he was not to live thirteen years after that meeting. Anyway, I walked away from there with a note which was to mean a job to me on the following morning. I felt lots better when I turned in.

Next morning I presented Chandler's note to Jim Atkin, who was one of the owners of the Tonopah Assay Office. I started to work at once, and that night I secured a permanent room, including board, at the old Celtic, a miners' boarding house out on Florence Avenue.

I did not know how near I came to being fired that first week, until some weeks later when my boss, having decided to go away to Los Angeles and leave me in charge of his business for two weeks, told me that at first he was watching me like a hawk and checking every bit of my work. But I did know the difference between a college laboratory and a custom assay office produced a gap too big to be bridged without fear and trembling—especially the latter.

Anyhow, I soon became a veteran assayer and found time to look around the town. At sight of the gambling tables, rosy visions of making a fortune and going back to college in style, entered my head. Luck favored me at first, and I restricted my winnings to twenty dollars a night—I had a system, you see.

Unfortunately, all I had to do to get money whenever I wanted it, was to put my I. O. U. in the cash drawer and take out what was needed, so long as I did not overdraw what I had coming up to the day I drew it.

After a couple of weeks, in which I had bought a nice camera, a good overcoat and other impediments which appeal to the eye and heart of a college kid, I found that there was something wrong with my system. I was conservative enough always to have two weeks' pay coming to me when it was time to settle for my board and room, but I had little left beside. Old Man Percentage was getting the best of me.

Three months of sweating work in firing furnaces, weighing and parting beads of gold and silver, and writing up certificates for prospectors, brought me to within a few weeks of the time when I was supposed to return to college to finish my final year. Taking stock, I found I had nothing to show in a financial way for my efforts.

RED CROSS PLANS YEAR, CUTS ONE ACTIVITY

NEVADA CITY: The Community Nursing Service, established ten years ago as an experiment by the American Red Cross, has announced that according to a national Red Cross ruling the Red Cross. However, the Service is and withdrawing financial aid after this year.

The Nevada County Board of Supervisors have raised their contribution to cover the amount formerly donated by the local Red Cross. However, the ervSice is still $515 short of meeting their estimated 1948 budget.

Estimated Budget for 1948:

|---|---|
| Salary for regular Staff Nurse | $3000 |
| Substitute Staff Nurse | 500 |
| Transportation (car exp.) | 600 |
| Nursing supplies and laundry | 50 |
| Stationery and Printing | 30 |
| Telephone | 60 |
| Postage and P. O. Box Rent | 10 |
| Insurance | 105 |
| Total | $4355 |

Agencies contributisg to the service:

|---|---|
| County of Nevada | $1600 |
| City of Grass Valley | 1080 |
| City of Nevada | 400 |
| State Dept., toward Nurse's car | 360 |
| Patient's fees for service (average) | 400 |
| Total | $3840 |

Since its inception, the visiting Nurse Service has been a real community asset. It offers the skilled service of Margaret Reed, a graduate nurse, for the nominal charge of $2.00, and is given free to those unable to pay.

The home visits in 1947 totaled 2634 visits, and to date this year 1088. The fees collected totaled $413, showing that a large majority of the cases visited received free care. All types of patients, regardless of the nature of their ailments, are cared for by the visiting nurse service, and the service is available as long as the need is present.

Messages for the nurse are received at the City Hall in Nevada City, and in Grass Valley, at the Public Library Building at the Nurse's Office between 1 and 2 P. M.

Reason for curtailing some Red Cross activities iis the diminution of the national budget as compared with the peak year 1945-46, the national organization is pending only 33% of the sum used in that year, and the local chapters only 76%.

Members of the nursing activities committee are:

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Christian Science churches on Sunday, July 25. The Golden Text is from Deuteronomy: "Ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgement: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he" (32:3,4).

The following citations are included in the sermon:

Psalms: "Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou are the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day" (25:4,5).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer. coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth" (p. 11).

Just Wonderin'

I Wonder as the orators
Prepare their hectic flights of speech,
If we shall catch their spirit too,
And add our little screech.

Convention sights and sounds will soon be of the past, the wild flights of oratory will "tremble away into silence," and there will be a brief respite before the campaigns begin in earnest. Then, if we can judge the future by the past, all restraint will be thrown aside and we shall really hear something.

I wish the parents of Henry Wallace had named their young hopeful, Dick. Then we, the voters, could have alluded to the presidential candidates as Tom, Dick and Harry. That would have been delightfully familiar and might have satisfied any impulse we felt for name calling and vituperation.

But why should we utter sizzling speech? These men who are foolish enough to strive mightily for a thankless job are just men—men who have been found eligible for high office, that is they have in the eyes of their followers, and we should give them all a modicum of respect and careful attention. We are at liberty to criticize them, to differ with them quite earnestly, but we need not degrade ourselves while so doing. This is a time for placing a guard upon our lips and seeing to it that our tongues are not forked. There are certain things which we owe ourselves. Let's not let ourselves down. Name calling is not argument, it proves nothing but a certain paucity of thought of which we, as good mannered citizens should not be found guilty. Let's try to remember that.

"Words are things and the man who gives to his language the license to outrage his soul, is controlled by the words which he seeks to control."

In the midst of the campaign din, we may find ourselves tempted to open our lips and utter impassioned speech and it will be alright to have our say if we can but remember to do our campaigning in a decent and orderly manner.

"Boys flying kites haul in the white winged birds,
You can't do that way when you're flying words;
Thoughts unexpressed may often fall back dead,
But God himself can't kill them, once they're said."

If in the days ahead, Mr. Dewey resorts to name calling and smearing, I shall vote for Mr. Truman; if Mr. Truman is guilty of these incivilities also, I shall vote for Mr. Wallace; if Mr. Wallace resorts to uncouth measures, I shall vote for Mr. Churchill—I will so.

It is good to be temperate in all things at all times, now is the time for temperate speech. Let's not degrade ourselves by immoderate campaigning. Let's not let ourselves down.

Here is a bit of very good advice from the pen of Mr. Shakespeare:

This above all, to thine own self be true
And it must follow as the day the night,
Thou can'st not then be false to any man."

Adeline Merriam Conner

TODAY. This is the birth date of Frank Hamilton Cushing, American ethnologist. He was born at Northeast, Pa., in 1857. His interest in the American Indian began at an early age. When sixteen he was excavating Indian camps. In 1879 he became a member of the Zuni tribe and remained among them for three years studying their habits and recording their folk lore .He died in 1900.

FRIENDS. In spite of political back talk betwen our two major political parties, the foreign situation and world affairs in general, friendship does exist. Two such friends are the United States of America and Canada. The countries are planning a joint Arctic expedition. It is expected to sail from Boston next week. Its purpose will be to visit meteorological stations in Canadian northland which are manned by Americans and Canadians.

ERROR. One of the most talked of mistakes is that made by Douglass Corrigan, "Wrong Way Corrigan." Ten years ago this month he took off from the Long Beach Municipal airport for New York. On July 17, 1938, he supposedly set out for the return trip, flew over the Atlantic and landed in Ireland. It has taken all of this time for him to come through with the truth. Recently he stated: "I've been telling it so long I'm beginning to believe it myself."

SNAPSHOT. He is always cheerful, the slight built, dark haired, dark eyed man, who sit behind a steering wheel with a money box at his side. The nickels and dimes merrily jingle and jangle as he turns the box crank. Your mood may be as torrid as the day, or depressed as a rainy morning and you hate to be on your way, but when you meet him and hear his cheery "hello," before you know it your spirits are jingling as merrily as the nickels and dimes in the money box.

YOURSELF. Archie, the turtle, came up out of the cool of his abode to remark: "Whew! What a hot day! and remained only long enough to add, "People born on this day put self first. Security is their god. They take good care of their money and property. They love comfort and ease and will work themselves to a frazzle to get these things."

LAGESON SEEKS RELEASE FROM STATE FAIR WORK

NEVADA CITY: L. G. Lageson, county horticultural commissioner, has asked the supervisors to relieve him of his duties as state fair commissioner.

Lageson said that the increased pressure of office duties would make it impractical for him to devote as much time to gathering and arranging the Nevada County exhibit as the project required. He declared that the rapid spread of puncture vine along the Auburn and Marysville Highways would occupy his time before the noxious weed went to seed. The State Division of Highways, he said, would co-operate with him by supplying 150 hours of labor on the job.

Sam's Hens Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles — which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues ... whether a man should drink beer or cider ... whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts ... instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

SNIDER IS NEW RANGER FOR BLOOMFIELD

NEVADA CITY: Guerdon Ellis, supervisor of Tahoe National Forest, yesterday announced the transfer of Hobart L Snider, ranger at Truckee, to be ranger for the North Bloomfield district with offices in this city.

Snider is a veteran of the forest service having lived at the Truckee Ranger Station for many years. Ranger E. E. Boehm of the Shasta National Forest will occupy the post at Truckee. Snider fills the vacancy in the North Bloomfield office caused by the transfer of Warren Barnes to the Santa Barbara Forest.

Ellis also announced that Gordon Vance, central fire dispatcher, has been transferred to the Lassen National Forest as timber assistant, with headquarters at Susanville. William French will occupy Vance's post in the local office. He holds down two posts, fire prevention officer and fire dispatcher.

P. G. & E. PAYS 25% OF PROPERTY TAXES PAID IN COUNTY

NEVADA CITY: Pacific Gas and Electric Company paid $207,110 property taxes in Nevada County in the tax year ended June 30, according to James R. Johnson, manager of the company's Drum division.

The company's payment amounted to 25.5 per cent of all property taxes levied in the county.

"P. G. and E. last year paid a total federal, state and local tax bill of $37,618,030", Johnson said. "Local property taxes throughout the 46 counties served by the company amounted to $16,279,675. Of the latter amount, 38 per cent, or $6,243,290, went to the support of schools."

Total taxes paid by P. G. and E. including local property taxes, local franchise payments, and prorated state and federal taxes, amounted to $296,128 for Nevada County, including $16,371 for the city of Nevada City.

Johnson explained that the latter figures are based on actual property and franchise taxes, plus federal and state taxes paid on P. G. and E.'s system as a whole and prorated to cities and counties according to local gross revenues of the company.

This method of allocation shows the extent of P. G. and E.'s share in the community's tax support of the state and federal governments as well as local governments and taxing bodies, he said.

The $207,110 total Nevada County property taxes of the company included $87,341 for the support of schools, $112,193 for county government, $3,691 for city governments and $3,885 in other district taxes.

Ad valorem taxes on the company's property in the city of Nevada City amounted to $3,977. Included in this figure were $1,422 for county government, $1,392 for schools and $1,162 for city government.

"These figures reveal that P. G. and E., as a business-managed, tax paying utility company, already is a major support of taxing bodies in its territory," Johnson said, "and the company now is engaged in a gigantic $400,000,000 expansion program which will add new wealth to local tax rolls."

1000 men rush expansion of P. G. and E.'s greatest power plant

Near the lapping waters of the Bay at Hunters Point in San Francisco, P. G. and E.'s Station "P" is rapidly growing from a good sized power plant into a giant with an electric generating capacity of 360,000 horsepower. When the new power goes on the line this winter, Station "P" will be the largest generating plant on P. G. and E.'s vast system. And it's just part of our postwar construction program which is adding nearly 2,000,000 horsepower to our power supply.

We put salt water to work at Station "P." Two tunnels, six by nine feet, will pour 230,000,000 gallons of Bay water daily through the plant to cool the steam from the turbine-generators. That's nearly three times as much water as San Francisco uses every day.

When Station "P" hits its maximum output, it will produce six times as much electrical power as it does today. Still other plants, both steam and hydro, are on the way to provide more power for Northern and Central California homes, farms and factories.

for the record
Each of the four boilers at Station "P" is taller than an 8-story building.
P. G. and E. is enlarging its system at the rate of more than $10,000,000 a month.
$10,000,000 a month
New plants are adding ½ million horsepower during next 7 months.

WILLIAM HOME HAS DEVELOPED REGIONAL CUSTOM

NEVADA CITY: William Home, Men's Furnishings, is one of this city's oldest businesses from the standpoint of continuity in the same location. Home bought the men's department of what was formerly The Lace House, from Mrs. Ruby Miller in 1938.

Mrs. Miller had purchased the store from S. Lee Leiter in 1935. Leiter for many years operated The Lace House as a complete department store and, under that name, the mercantile institution dates from pioneer days.

William Home has succeeded in establishing his smart men's furnishings line on a regional basis, attracting lovers of excellent quality in clothing from all of this area, as well as many travelers from metropolitan centers.

Home was born in Scotland 27 miles from Edinburgh. He emigrated, as a young man, to British Columbia. During the 1st war he saw combat with the 72nd Seaforth Highlanders' and afterward was associated with the Hudson's Bay Company of Vancouver and with the Gordon Drybold retail institution.

Home worked for S. Lee Leiter for many years before Leiter sold the business. Leiter had previously worked for a Mr. Maher, an early owner of The Lace House.

BOND'S STORES HAVE INTERESTING SUCCESS STORY

GRASS VALLEY: One of Nevada County's most intelligent and aggressive business leaders is William T. Martin, owner of Bond's Radios and Appliances stores, in both Nevada City and Grass Valley, as well as a warehouse in each city.

Martin left the practically nonexistant building business in 1931 to take over the family farm where he engaged in the woodcutting and merchandising business as a successful sideline. With the increased demand for fuel oil, Bond switched to this business, and formed Bond's Fuel Co. During the war he added oil heaters and appliances, and soon established the Commercial Street store in Nevada City where he formed the Bond's Radios and Appliances business. He continued the fuel oil business, and soon established the Grass Valley Bond's Radios and Appliances store at 124 East Main.

He then sold the fuel business and concentrated on expanding the radio and appliances stores, until he is now the largest dealer in the county.
